STEM LINGO CODING WORKSHOP

HOSTED BY AAUW & VIRGINIA TECH INNOVATION CAMPUS

🌟 Offered to High School Girls Interested in STEM! 🌟

Join American Association of University Women's STEMEd For Girls with kits provided by VA Tech's Innovation Campus for our upcoming coding workshop on May 18, 2024.

Dive into coding with STEM Lingo kits! This workshop will help you develop crucial skills like problem-solving and creativity while exploring real Arduino applications. Meticulously crafted by engineering experts, these kits are the perfect way to enhance your coding skills or further your journey into the exciting world of technology. We'll provide STEM Lingo kits for FREE - Just come prepared for some coding fun!

Don't miss this chance to learn the language of STEM and boost your confidence!

Date and Time: May 18, 2024 at 10:30 am

Location: Sherwood Regional Library
2501 Sherwood Hall Lane
Alexandria, VA, 22306

Use the QR code to register by April 18th.
Space is limited so register soon!